About

I am a full-stack web developer, I navigate seamlessly between creativity, logic, and organization. I have worked in distribution, customer service, bicycle sales and repair. I am hard-working and a quick-learner, I have an analytical mind and welcome the opportunity to think pragmatically in order to solve any problem given to me. I hope we can work together someday soon!

Experience

East Side King

February 2016 - February 2017

Cook

Austin, TX

At this high-volume, fast-paced, and well-regarded eatery, I was forced to learn quickly and under pressure. I learned the value of working closely with a team and at times took on a leadership role.

Natural Choice Distribution
